THE RESULT IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Figures are sometimes wicked but they generally manage to tell the truth. The array of official majorities, in another column, cannot be tortured into anything but an acknowledgment that SHARSWOOD has triumphed over our gifted candidate, and has been chosen to a seat on the Supreme bench. We have added the columns up and down, and proved them by casting out the nines, but the invariable and unwelcome result—862 for the opposition, still stares us in the face. In those figures, which vainly reach to rank an honest thousand, there is a powerful sermon. They tell of the importance of every citizen exercising his duty as such at the ballot-box; of natural disaster arising out of over confidence in the strength of political parties; of the dangers of apathy; the folly of carrying side or local issues as party planks, and in brief, they tell enough golden truths to compensate in a measure for the defeat we have suffered.

The campaign just closed was but the prelude to the greater one which now opens. A wise and benificent Providence has thrown victory into the hands of the enemy for good purpose, and at an opportune moment. The country can afford to permit Pennsylvania to elect a Democrat to the Supreme Bench. No serious consequences will follow such choice in the reconstruction of the South; nor will the deliberations of Congress be hindered; nor credit and position affected abroad; nor agricultural and commercial interests suffer at home. National affairs will roll on as smoothly and quietly with SHARSWOOD on the bench in this State as with WILLIAMS in the same position. But the country cannot afford to place any but a Republican in the Presidential chair. The thought of a Democratic successor to one who has so debased the office, cannot divest itself of a train of attendant national calamities.

After weariness of war the loyal people sought quiet and rest, gave way to inertness and apathy, and thus would they have remained had not Pennsylvania thundered the alarm in their ears. They are now awake to the movements of the wily enemy and in their might will send him "whirling up the valley" when next they meet at the ballot box.

IOWA has given a noble lesson to Pennsylvania. Further away from the Capital of the Nation she saw more clearly the importance of doing her full duty towards the country at large, and rolled up a heavy Union majority. The returns thus far give the Republicans 16,000, which will doubtless be swelled to 20,000! All honor to Iowa.

OHIO has certainly elected Gen. Hays, Republican, for Governor, by a majority closely hugging 3,500.

DAVID DAVIS, administrator of Mr. Lincoln's estate, has published a statement certified on oath. It amounted to $85,000, exclusive of the $25,000 donated by Congress. Who will ask Congress to tax the widows of soldiers, many of whom are struggling for bread, to supply Mrs. Lincoln's demand for luxury, and every dollar voted by Congress is paid by taxes. Every widow pays a part of these taxes in every purchase she makes of the comforts and even necessaries of life, in the rent she pays, and even her fare on a street car. Why should our widows, in a Republic, be supported in private rooms, and meals, an establishment of servants, a "crack team," and luxurious coach kept at an expensive hotel, while others wash to support their children, and contribute their mites to her support.

THE Louisville Courier has an editorial headed "The God and Morality Party," and says that, in view of the result of the elections, this party should "again bellow lustily for 'an anti-slavery bible and an [anti-slavery God,' as they used to do when Garrison and Phillips were the leading spirits of the party." The Courier rejoices with "a joy too great for utterance" over the success of its Northern friends, and predicts "the return of the American people to those glorious principles for which their fathers fought, and to that free, republican government established by them." Who can doubt the purpose of the Democracy to reestablish that Institution which they defended to the last; and which has lost this nation three hundred thousand lives of loyal men, and three thousand million dollars, the property of loyal men?

A MARRIAGE took place in England, lately, at Chertsey Church, the parties to which never met until the morning of the wedding. A soldier showed his color-bearer the carte de visite of his sister. The color-bearer fell in love with the picture, and sent his to the original. She reciprocated the attachment, they agreed to meet in church and plight their vows; and accordingly met and plighted them.

A CORRESPONDENT of the London Globe gives an account of a disgusting practical joke played off between a French Marquis and some lady guests. They put flour in his bed. He had it scraped off his person, made into cake and furnished to them. After they had eaten he gave a recipe for making the cake, "First, take your flour and roll a man in it."

IT MUST be a mortifying reflection to those Republicans of Allegheny county who refused or neglected to vote at the late election that, if they had voted, Judge Williams would have been elected. The majority given in this county last year to Geary would, if repeated this year, have saved us from defeat in the State.

THE daughters of Ohio Democrats, during the late campaign, paraded in procession under banners inscribed "Fathers, Save us From Negro Equality;" but their fathers condemned them to continue that equality by voting to continue the "white male" clause in their Constitution.

THE Louisville Democrat pronounces Gen. Cary a sham all around; sham Workingman, sham Radical, sham Congressman, elected by shams. He will "defeat and denounce" Democracy. "His election is no triumph of ours, nor really of any one else but Gen. Sam Cary."

THE Chicago Tribune asks: "Will Andrew Johnson fight? Will he disperse the rump Congress by the bayonet as his followers advise?" and suggests that if such is his purpose he should openly declare it now, and ask its indorsement in the coming elections.

HAUSMAN, who pulls down Paris and builds it again, lives on his estate, near the Gironde. He is a great time grower and great epicure.

THERE were no murders, elopements or frightful accidents, in Chicago, on the 10th.

RESULT IN THE STATE.

Below we give the result of the State election, so far as the figures have reached us. We have official majorities in sixty-two counties, which give WILLIAMS a majority of 213; but adding the reported majorities in the remaining counties—Forrest, Pike, Sullivan and Wyoming—which will not be materially changed, the totals stand as given in the table, and make SHARSWOOD's majority 862:

WHEN LOLA MONTES was on her death bed she sent for the Rev. Dr. Haukes, who has left an account of her, in which he says, "In the course of a long experience as a Christian minister, I do not think I ever saw deeper penitence and humility, more real contrition of soul, and more of bitter self-reproach, than in this poor woman. When I prayed with her nothing could exceed the fervor of her devotion; and never had I a more watchful and attentive hearer when I read the Scriptures. On my first visit, when I took up her bible from the table, the fact struck me that it opened of its own accord to the touching story of Christ's forgiveness of the Magdalene in the house of Simon."

GOV. BROWNLOW, in his Message, says the State Government is firmly established by time, Congressional recognition, and popular ratification. He testifies to the aptitude of the colored people in acquiring knowledge, and to their moderation and good sense in exercising the rights of freemen. He recommends remuneration of loyal men in Tennessee for losses sustained during the war, will disband the State militia as soon as the rebellious portions of Middle and West Tennessee will permit him, and says that instead of costing the State millions, as asserted, it has cost little more than the tenth of a million.

THE residence of Peter Fisher, near Nirons, Minn., was burned on the night of the 2d, and four persons perished in the flames, notwithstanding the efforts of Mr. Fisher to rescue them. When roused, he carried his wife and infant, three days old, to a place of safety, and returned to find the floor of the second story fallen in, and Mrs. Kadeland, aged 73, his wife's aunt, Jacob, aged 6, his son; John Koch, aged 22, a hired man, and Elizabeth Yaple, hired girl, in the flames. The skeleton of the aunt was found, with that of the child, locked in her arms.

WE are again assured that Prussia believes when Napoleon says he means peace, he means peace. It is now France's turn to say that she believes Prussia tells the truth. Both are dissembling, or they would not endeavor to impress on the world that they are not.

FENIANISM remains a thorn in the side of the British Government. A rising is hourly expected in some of the leading cities of Ireland. The Government shows good temper in endeavoring to keep its Irish down, under such circumstances.

THE editor of the Paris Epoque has been fined for slandering the police in saying, "Out of twenty arrests for the most trifling causes fifteen are accompanied by insults and blows."

THE masses of Italians are enrolling under the banner of Garibaldi. It is announced that Victor Emanuel will proclaim Rome a part of his kingdom.

TALLEYRAND forbade the publication of his memoirs for thirty years after his death. The time expires next summer, when they will appear.

THE British Æronautical Society offer a reward for improvements in aparatus for air travel, and are to have an exhibition in May next.

THE New York Tribune proposes to license prize fighting.

PERSONAL.

—General Sheridan is to have a reception at Portland, Maine.

—Miss Janauschek, a German actress, is drawing crowds at the Academy of Music, New York.

—General Sheridan had an enthusiastic reception in Albany. In his speech he said: "To my old comrades I may say that for the last few years we have been making history, and I hope that history will be good history, and that they will not have recorded in it that rebellion is honorable."

—At Pillau, in Prussia, lives a woman who has for some years consecrated her life to the dangerous task of rescuing persons from shipwreck and drowning. This Prussian Grace Darling, who has saved more than three hundred persons, is held in the highest veneration by all classes of the people among whom she lives.

NEW MINISTER TO THE UNITED STATES.

LONDON, October 13.—Much fault is found with the selection by the Foreign Office of Edward Thornton, now Minister to Brazil, to represent Great Britain at Washington, as announced last week in the London Times. WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 12, 1867.

THE COUNTERFEIT 7-30s—POINTS OF DIFFERENCE WITH THE GENUINE.

Mr. Clark, chief of the Printing Bureau of the Treasury, to-day presented to Secretary McCulloch a detailed official report in reference to the counterfeit Seven-Thirty notes. He says all notes thus far presented are of the denomination of one thousand dollars, dated June 15th, 1865, and bear check letter A or B. None of them with C or D check letter have yet been discovered, but he thinks it not improbable that such may have been printed. The details of difference are:

First—The counterfeit seal is one-sixteenth of an inch larger than the genuine, and it is differing in size is in the points alone, the counterfeit points being larger than the genuine; the central portions of the seal are the same size in both counterfeit and genuine. The ink of the counterfeit seal is of a lighter red than the genuine.

Second—The figures of the counterfeit numbers differ in shape, particularly in the figure four, and are printed with different ink; the genuine has a metalic lustre, while the counterfeit is dull and leaden.

Third—Central vignette; expression of the face in the counterfeit female figure is very different from the genuine, as the eyes are larger and more open, chin longer and neck narrower than in the original; the convolution lines forming the clouding at the right of the female figure are more flattened in their curves in the counterfeit than they are in the genuine, the counterfeit lines being rougher, while the genuine are sharp and clear. The square tablet which encloses the eycloid work is in the counterfeit nearer to the tablet which encloses the terms option than it is in original. In the date option 7th after Julian 15 is near to the figures 1868, in the genuine, while in the counterfeit the "th" is some distance from the figures.

An expert in noting the difference will scarcely fail to notice many others which exist, but with which it is deemed unnecessary to extend this report in detail.

TELEGRAPHIC SUMMARY

—The Kansas Pacific Railroad and telegraph line reached Fort Hays last week.

—The steamboat J. H. Lacy, of the St. Louis and Omaha line, was snagged and sunk on Thursday night of last week, in the Missouri, twenty-five miles above St. Joseph.

—Eleven of the Philadelphia judges of the election held on Tuesday last entered a formal protest against the reception and counting of votes cast by soldiers in the United States regular service at Fort Delaware, because, as is contended, they were received contrary to the letter and spirit of the Act of Assembly of August 25th, 1864, the first section of which provides that only qualified electors in actual military service under a requisition of the President of the United States, are entitled to vote; and also the sixteenth section of the same act, which requires the returns to be signed by officers of Pennsylvania volunteers. If these votes are thrown out Sharswood's majority in Philadelphia will be increased about one hundred.

—A fire at St. Louis, Saturday morning, caused a loss of about sixty thousand dollars. The principal losers were J. M. Brown & Co., clothiers, Boothe & Gorkom, painters and brushes, and L. H. Wayne, trunk maker—all pretty well insured.

—Major Matt S. Ward, editor of the Sanala, (Tenn.) Star, died on the 12th, of a congestive chill.

—In San Francisco, Cal., on Friday night last, a livery stable and several frame buildings were destroyed by a fire, causing a loss of about $30,000

—The fair at St. Louis closed on Saturday. It was unprecedentedly successful, the receipts exceeding one hundred thousand dollars. The principal feature of the ring on Saturday was the contest of speed against time for three prizes; the first being three hundred dollars, the second one hundred and the third twenty-five. Sir Walter, owned by E. A. Pearson, of Louisville, Ky., took the first prize; Rolla Gold Dust and Rosa Gold Dust, owned by L. L. Dorsey, of Jefferson county, Ky., the second and third. A private premium for the fastest buggy horse was won by "George B. McClellan," driven by Miss Alice Howe, daughter of Geo. W. Howe, owner of the horse. This contest excited great enthusiasm, a lady actually driving and speeding a horse in harness in this ring before. For saddle geldings four years and over, Logan Parley, of Van Versailles, Ky., took the first premium. For saddle mares four years and over, the first premium was taken by Mr. Schockency, Louisville, Ky.; second by Miss Alice Howe, St. Louis. Stock sales will take place on the fair grounds to-day.

—The schooner Mary Elizabeth, loaded with lumber, from Detroit to Buffalo, was struck by a squall and sunk off Vermillion on Friday night of last week. Six men and a boy were on board. The mate was washed ashore and saved.

—Gen. Sherman has gone to New York preparatory to returning to the West.

—The President has remitted the sentence by court-martial of sixteen regular soldiers to forfeit two months pay, for attending a Fenian pic nic at Buffalo, last fall, in Fenian uniform.

—Hon. E. M. Stanton has gone to Ohio to attend the wedding of Gen. Forsythe, of Gen. Sheridan's staff, to a daughter of ex-Gov. Dennison.

—The President has decided not to grant a court of inquiry to Gen. Sickles, or to re-open the case of Fitz John Porter.

—The Government will lose nothing by the counterfeit seven-thirty bonds, as the Treasury Department decides that the loser must be the person who negotiates and endorses the bond.

—Commodore Rudd, of Virginia, on the Navy retired list, died at Philadelphia on Friday evening last.

Trouble With Negroes on Taylor Farm —Registration Books closed.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

RICHMOND, October 12.—General O. Brown, Chief of the Freedmen's Bureau, of this State, has received a letter from Norfolk, explaining the difficulty on Taylor Farm. These negroes have been allowed to remain unmolested on the farm to this time. Taylor was pardoned a year ago, and has been trying to oust them, but they persistently refused to leave. The agent of the Freedmen's Bureau accompanied a party from Norfolk to Taylor's Farm a few days since to try to persuade them to leave, offering them a place on Gen. Wise's farm, which is still in the hands of the Bureau; but they assembled and refused to compromise, saying the President had no right to pardon Taylor, and declared they would remain on the farm and defend what they claim to be their rights. Steps will be taken to eject them by civil process. No outbreak has occurred yet, and there has been no armed demonstration, but it is feared trouble and blood-shed will grow out of the affair before the squatters are ejected.

The Board of Registration closed their books last evening. During the five days one hundred and eighty-nine whites and one hundred and fifty-seven blacks were registered in this city.

The African Church having been refused, the Republican mass nominating Convention will therefore be held in Capital Square on Monday. Hunnicutt and Underwood will probably be the candidates nominated.

Progress of the Central Pacific Railroad—Inspection by United States Commissioners.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—The United States Commissioners have finished their inspection of the Central Pacific Railroad west of San Francisco. They carefully examined the grade, culverts, bridges, etc., which they pronounce twenty-five per cent. better constructed than any portion of the road before accepted. Over that section there are already four miles of roofing and two and a half additional will be built this fall. After a thorough examination the Commissioners unanimously recommend the government to accept the road. The Commissioners then commenced the primary inspection of the road two miles east at Coburn's Station. Cars are running east eight and a half miles and construction trains are laying the track at the rate of one mile and a half daily. In thirty days the section will be completed. The intermediate section over the summit will not be completed for transportation purposes until early next spring, although the company expect to lay the track before winter. By August next cars will be running to Truckee river, near Crystal Peak, while a considerable portion of the road will be graded towards Humbolt.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—Idaho papers of October 5th contain accounts of late Indian outrages. Joseph F. Colwell, was shot and scalped, and his body burned by savages, within half a mile of Owyhee.

A miners' league has been formed, with the object to fix the wages at six dollars per day. The miners are all on a strike, and work has been stopped in nearly all the mines.

At a meeting held in Owyhee the price of legal tenders for commercial purposes was fixed at seventy-five.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 12.—The Democrats of this city held a large and enthusiastic meeting at the Court House to-night in honor of the recent Democratic victories in Ohio and Pennsylvania. Gen. Nathan Ranney presided and speeches were made by Hon. John Hogan, Jas. S. Green, Ulrich Wright, and other gentlemen. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we hail the result of the elections in Pennsylvania and Ohio as an indication that the people of the country are unwilling longer to be taxed to death for the political elevation of the negro to the exclusion and degradation of the white man.

Resolved, That the Democracy of St. Louis, in mass meeting assembled, tender to the patriotic freemen of Ohio, States, and of Kentucky and California, sincere and heart-felt thanks for the noble battle they have made in defense of constitutional liberty and the maintenance of Republican institutions in this country.

Resolved, That we will endeavor, on the first opportunity, to follow in Missouri the good example and do likewise.

Torchlight Procession Prohibited by Major Anderson.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

SAVANNAH, October 13.—Mayor Anderson has issued a proclamation prohibiting a torchlight procession, on the ground that it would likely result in a riot and conflagration. MEMPHIS

Yellow Fever Epidemic Increasing.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

Railroad Collision—Passenger Killed.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

ALBANY, Oct. 13.—A collision occurred last evening, just outside the city limits, between a car loaded with iron, which had broken off from the 10 P. M. train, near the summit of the heavy grade west of the city, and the 11 P. M. passenger train west, smashing the engine and one car two cars, and crushing to death a passenger named Charles H. Britton, of Glenville, New York, who was standing on the platform. No other person was injured. Three men who were on the freight car got off safely before the collision occurred.

Tampering With the Returns.

MESSRS EDITORS:—The Post of Saturday charges me with permitting one of the candidates on the Republican ticket to "handle the election returns before being examined by the Return Judges." It also says that the candidate was "seen in exclusive possession of election returns before their final adjudication," on the morning of the day on which the Return Judges met.

The "election returns referred to by the Post, were not in my possession, and were not on file in this office, nor within my control at the time mentioned. The papers directed to be filed in this office by the Return Judges, on the morning of the day on which the Return Judges meet, are one copy of the tally list, one of the list of voters and one copy of each oath of the election officers for each election district. The "election returns" for each district, is made out exclusively for the Return Judges, to be by them presented to and read before the meeting of Return Judges, and these "election returns" are not required to be filed here until after the Return Judges have read them, added them together, and made out their certificate of the result. Up to this writing these "election returns" have not been filed here, nor have they in any way, as yet, come into my possession.

These could not, then, have been any handling of "election returns" in this office, by any one, since these were, in every case, in the exclusive possession of the Return Judges, until after their adjournment.

The tally lists and other papers required by law to be filed in the Prothonotary's office, are papers open to public examination, and I have a right to permit any one who applies, to examine them, if I think proper.

In the case referred to by the Post, a reporter of one of the papers asked the privilege, on Friday morning, before the Return Judges met, of copying the number of votes polled, from the tally lists, as filed on that day, and I permitted him to do so, the examination being made in my presence and with my assistance. The "election returns" corresponding with the tally lists were, in each case, in the exclusive possession of the Return Judges.

The Post adds: "We are certain no Democrat would have been permitted to look over." It is a sufficient answer to this to say that during all the time the reporter before alluded to was engaged in examining the tally lists, and for some considerable time after, Mr. John C. Barr, brother of the editor of the Post, was also engaged in examining them. He examined, I believe, every tally list filed in this office on that day. He was, as I supposed, acting as reporter for the Post; but whether or not, he is well known as a Democrat, and he used all the privileges that were accorded to any one at that or any other time.

IMPEACHMENT.

If there are persons who deem it indispensable or even desirable that in a written frame of government for a free people no important matter should be left to be determined by inference, analogy or precedent, but that all powers, prohibitions or limitations should be clearly and unmistakably set forth, the Constitution of the United States does not come up to their requirement. In many particulars that instrument is vague and indefinite. Whether this peculiarity results from incompetency, from lack of thorough consideration, from a disposition common to all lawyers to leave much to be regulated by recognized principles of interpretation, or from a settled purpose to put the organization in such form that it could be easily adjusted, in many of its parts, to the growth of population, the diversification of interests, and the general development of ideas, each one must decide according to his conception of the men who were potential in giving shape to the instrument. The provisions of the Constitution in respect to impeachment furnish illustrations of the peculiarities to which we refer. In some parts exceedingly exact, in others they are enveloped in ambiguities, which can only be settled by interpretation.

Article one, section two, clause five, stipulates that the House of Representatives "shall have the sole power of impeachment." This would seem to vest the entire authority touching this matter in the House, to the total exclusion of the Senate. But Article one, section three, clause six, declares that "the Senate shall have sole power to try all impeachments." This essentially modifies the grant of power conferred upon the House, limiting it to preferring charges upon which trials in the form of impeachment may be conducted. It was certainly easy to have made this distinction in plain terms, and no good reason can be thought of why the men who wrote the Constitution did not make it.

The Constitution does not define what classes of people shall be amenable to impeachment, nor for what grades of offences. It simply specifies in Article two, section four, clause one, that "the President, Vice President, and all civil officers of the United States, shall be removed from office on impeachment for, and conviction of, treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors." This much is imperative; if impeachment and conviction are concluded for the reasons thus set forth, deposition must certainly follow. It is not said or intimated, however, that "treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors" are the only offences for which an office-holder may be impeached, convicted and removed, or that "civil officers" of the United States are the only persons who may be proceeded against in this form.

Mr. MADISON stoutly maintained that the President not only might, but ought to be, impeached for removing persons from office, and filling the vacated places, for no substantial cause but the promotion of party or personal ends. He held that this was a corrupt use of the appointing power. Under the first two Presidents no doubt was expressed, if entertained, as to the soundness of this conclusion. There was universal agreement that any misuse of power on the part of a person in official position subjected him to impeachment, and no doubt existed but the House of Representatives in the preliminary proceedings, and the Senate in the adjudication, were exclusively empowered to decide in what a misuse of power consisted. That this is the true intent and meaning of the Constitution cannot well be denied.

In England, from whence the founders of our governament derived many if not most of their primary, or rather perhaps, traditional ideas, any citizen was and is liable to impeachment for any form of incivism. Parliament, which holds the impeaching power, is exclusively empowered to decide what actions or what omissions to act constitute or involve such a degree of incivism as to justify resort to impeachment. The indefiniteness of the Constitution on this head, certainly leaves it to be inferred that the impeaching power of Congress runs to the same extent, which is an excess which should have been scrupulously guarded against.

Stopping short of this, and restricting liability to impeachment to individuals holding civil offices under the Government, it is worth while to consider under what circumstances it is judicious or proper for Congress to exercise the authority which it unquestionably possesses. In every Government, whether its outward form is that of an absolute despotism, a limited monarchy, or a republic, public opinion is the actual Constitution. What the people vehemently desire must and will be done. This is why NAPOLEON III watches most intently the shifting phases of thought and emotion among the masses of his subjects. When the people are fully resolved to have their way on any point, he knows that resistance on his part is not only useless, but involves the certainty of the deepest peril to himself and his dynasty. The aristocracy which rule Great Britain recently exhibited by concessions in the matter of parliamentary representation what deference they feel bound to pay to the matured judgment of the many. In the United States the case is no wise different. The people are absolutely sovereign, not only over the administration, but over the organic forms. Their will is the supreme law, and though it may be impeded for a time, it must ultimately prevail.

This shows the necessity that is laid on Congress not to move in the matter of impeachment except in obedience to the popular demand and on grounds which will be approved by public opinion. Armed as it is with the most ample powers by the Constitution to impeach and depose the President for any reasons satisfactory to itself, to exercise those powers for causes or under circumstances which the masses of the population would disapprove as not contemplated by the organic law, or as not demanded by the public exigency, or as calculated to produce greater mischiefs than those it was intended to remedy, would be most unwise. The intentions of the people are often wiser than the most cautious and labored deductions of Statesmen, and those intuitions in a Government like this cannot safely be contemned.

ONE LESSON taught by the late election in this county should be carefully heeded—the folly of making late nominations. Our legislative nominations were not made until the first week in September; and as the ticket was not complete until then, it was impossible to begin the campaign at any prior period. This left us but four weeks for effective work; and in the sluggish, apathetic state of the public mind, four weeks afforded too little time to rouse it into activity. In compact cities like Philadelphia and New York late nominations may do, because the territory to be worked over is not extensive; but in a county so territorially large as this, it requires months of steady work to organize the party thoroughly. The County Committee should take action in time to secure the nomination of a complete ticket at an early season next year; so that, as soon as the Presidential nomination is made, we may be able to begin the work of the campaign.

THE Negro Suffrage party of Illinois, took the Chicago Times into communion last fall; but it has backslidden and joined the Antics.

THEN AND NOW.

In 1862 the Democrats carried New York by 10,752, and elected 17 members of Congress to 14 Republicans. New Jersey by 14,597, and elected 4 members to 1 Republican. Pennsylvania by 3,524, and elected 13 members to 11 Republicans. Ohio by 5,577, and elected 14 members to 5 Republicans. Indiana by 9,543, and elected 7 members to 4 Republicans. Illinois by 16,546, and elected 9 members to 3 Republicans. Michigan by 6,614, and gained 1 member. Then our armies were in the field, Emancipation was in prospect, Republicans had to breast all the recoil current of that public sentiment turned aside by the annulling of Fremont's proclamation. They had defeats, disasters, mistakes and betrayals to contend against. Their leader was more vilified and ridiculed than any public man had ever been. Their enemies were wild with enthusiasm. The rebels struck with renewed vigor and assurance of victory. The London Times assumed that nothing could bring peace but a recognition of the Confederate States; Mr. Gladstone said Jefferson Davis had created a nation. The Democrats held a jubilee in Philadelphia, at which our soldiers were said to be fighting "in patient submission to the inexorable law which drags them from their homes," and that "the Democracy now present to the world an unbroken phalanx of kindred souls, that they can never be enslaved, and that the habeas corpus is the sheet-anchor of their hopes." Mr. Lincoln was pronounced "a tyrant" who had come into power with "heathen oaths," and was "a nightmare to his country." Mr. Ingersoll proposed a National Convention "for the reintegration of our individual freedom and our State rights, and as some hope of restoring the Union, of which there was not the remotest chance by any other means." Mr. Reed, more diplomatic, said the North was "weary of debt and taxation, of the tax collector and the recruiting sergeant, weary of the ambulance of the wounded and the hearse of the dead, and would hail with ecstacy beyond control the hour when flags of truce should be displayed at Washington and Richmond." He called upon the next Legislature to "become the grand inquest" for indicting all who had dared to take a prominent part in the war. But the nation was not lost. The clouds which darkened the horizon swiftly vanished, and bright victories followed in rapid succession on the field where thousands of brave hearts were battling, and at home, where the silent ballot gave evidence that the people were still arrayed on the side of Truth, Right and Justice. So to-day, as in 1862, the cloud lowers, but it portends no disaster. The people see its silver edges and hopefully await the bright gleam of sunlight which will stream through to warm and gladden the heart of the nation at the forthcoming Presidential election.

ON THIS LINE.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—We are, to-day, where the Army of the Republic was when night closed in after the battle of the Wilderness. Let its leaders call a council, and on their decision depends the question of its success or disruption. Should they conclude to recross the Rappahannock, they can get ready for private life. The masses will wait until the Lord sends a leader, and go to Richmond. Should they resolve to advance, the rank and file are ready for motion; but should they attempt to entrench, and go into winter quarters, their forces will take the responsibility of being homeward bound; and the squatters may dwell, in solitary state, behind their earthworks.

There is nothing for Congress to do but fight it out on this line. The American people are prone to recklessness. They are young, vigorous, full of growing life. Conservatism compromises are born of age and decrepitude. The compromises of the Constitution never were observed by any party but the Puritans of New England, who had been schooled into conservatism by their veneration for the law of Moses. The caution and gravity of old age was grafted upon the vigor of their growing youth, by their peculiar training to self-restraint, and veneration for the customs of two thousand years ago. They learned in great measure to conquor their prejudices, and observed a compact which was hateful to them, when the Southern people burst the bands, as though they had been burnt tow, while the Northern sentiment surged and chafed under the restraint, and our great collision came from the attempt to reconcile the irreconcilable—to restrain, by the conservatism of age, the growing youth of the nation. Should Congress disregard the lessons of the past, and set about patching up a policy of compromises, its mission is ended. Its members need hope for no further lease of power should they spend a winter in the important work of doing nothing. They must dismiss from office the man who has prostituted his power to release and reward the assassins who struck at the life of the nation, and murdered our prisoners of war. "The voice of thy brothers' blood cryeth from the ground," and the land cannot be cleansed from blood until their murderers have paid the forfeiture of their crime. Do honorable members forget that it was the people, the glorious rank and file of our armies, who starved and froze, and rotted and shrieked, in the phrenzy and madness of dispair, at Andersonville and Belle Isle, and hundreds of other prison houses? Do they forget that when the lives of two officers were threatened our Government saved them by resorting to retaliation?

It is the rank and file who do the voting as well as the fighting; and they would be wanting in common prudence, if they took no steps to secure themselves the treatment of civilized warfare, in any future war. If the past be allowed to go unpunished, what hope is there that, in the future, the American soldier, when a prisoner of war, will not be murdered to weaken our force?

A government is a farce, which has no power, within itself, and its defenders. If Congress was prevented, by the President, from doing justice to our soldiers, it was their plain duty to remove him. The people interpret the Constitution by the rules of common sense, and if convinced that it grants equal rights to friends and enemies, or protects its enemies in murdering its friends, they would toss it into the waste basket without a regret. We want a government able and willing to protect itself, and make itself respected by friends and foes. Those who do not love should be taught to fear it. The people must grow and possess the land; and they will not be cramped by the swaddling duds which its old nurses fitted to its infancy. Let Congress learn the lesson and move on not only to make treason odious by impeaching the prince of traitors, but by wise and prompt action to relieve our people from the burdens under which they labor. RADICAL.

THE Exposition has taught England that France is likely to carry off her laurels as the factory of the world. From the lack of education amongst her working classes is making itself felt in the decay of her manufactures. Prof. Tyndale, of the British Social Science Congress, thus predicts evil to come:

"I have long entertained the opinion that, in virtue of the better education provided by continental nations, England must one day—and that no distant one—find herself outstripped by those nations both in the arts of peace and war. As sure as knowledge is power this must be the result."

THE Washington correspondent of the Charleston Courier, lamenting over the prospects of certain impeachment, says:

"It will be difficult for the President to resist the enforcement of the law, when applied to his own suspension and arrest. But he has certainly declared to several public men, within the last few days, that he would resist it."

WHAT IS THE REASON?

EDITORS GAZETTE:—I have been reading several editorial leaders and extracts from leaders commenting upon the great falling off in the Republican vote in this and other States this fall. Some have it that it teaches this, and others that—some that we have been too radical, and others that we have not been sufficiently so. In my opinion it teaches nothing of the kind, but simply reveals the fact that vast numbers of both parties, but chiefly Republicans, were so indifferent about the election that they did not take the trouble to go to it.

I shall take for example the vote of this city for Governor in 1866, and that for Judge in 1867, and see what can be learned from them.

1866—Geary....	4,837.	Clymer.....3,551. Aggregate 8,388
1867—Williams	3,849.	Sharswood 2,560 " 6,278
Falling off....	1,018	991 2 009

This shows that apathy ruled the hour and nothing else, and that there was about as much of it in one party as in the other. The returns show a like falling off everywhere. The Democratic gains, as they are called, are only relative—only smaller losses—less falling off. That party is better trained than ours. The difference is about the same as that between regular troops and volunteers. It is only when the enthusiasm of the latter is aroused that they can be relied upon.

To hear or read what some earnest and zealous gentlemen say, we should be led to suppose that all our voters were philosophers or statesmen, and knew how to bind an abstract principle of national politics in a ballot for a State Judge. Many can do it, I admit, and those many did vote; but thousands, who see nothing in a ballot but the name printed upon it, did not feel sufficient interest in the man who bore that name to induce them to quit their avocations and repair to the polls. There was much apathy and little enthusiasm, and hence the vote was light and our majority in the State was cut down to nothing. Very few voters changed sides, and most of those few were governed by pique or prejudice rather than by more far-reaching principles.

We have as many Republicans in Pennsylvania to-day as ever we had; and if the usual proportion of them had voted we should now be exulting over our big majority as in times past; but as some thousands of them did not think worth while to do so, we must be content with the result as it is, whoever may have succeeded to the Judgeship; for at this moment I do not know how that matter has gone.

This reverse, like the first battle of Bull Run, will do us good, however unpleasant it is for the moment. It will do us good, provided it renders us more careful, as a general thing, in the formation of our tickets, especially for members of the Legislature and county officers. We could not have found a better candidate than we had on our State ticket. But should timid counsels prevail, and any of the cardinal and immutable principles upon which the Republican party was built up and crowned with a series of glorious triumphs be abandoned, then the result will be disastrous. Remember, the old Whig party, in 1852, took a retrograde step and perished. We have errors of practice in abundance, which we will do well to amend; but we have no errors of principle to forsake. Our creed is right, and we stick to it. Let us not disgust and drive from us our good men, as the Whig party did, in order to conciliate a few bad ones.

The watchword of the Republican party from the very first has been "ONWARD!" and whether we encounter a host in arms, as we did in the war, or a perfidious President, or a lingering, chronic prejudice born of slavery, still the cry that will rouse our people together is "ONWARD!" After a little, when the smoke of this skirmish is blown by, we shall put our standard into the hands of General Grant, and then the country will shake with the tread and the shout of freemen "marching on." There is but little panic, and that little will pass away quickly, and the country will continue to be governed on Republican principles, just as it nothing had happened. C.

Chickens Hatched from Eggs One Thousand Two Hundred Years Old.

The Paris correspondent of the Nation states that the guests of the Abbe Denis, curate of the Parish of St. Eloi, in the Fouburg St. Antonie, dined a few days ago on fowls whose immediate ancestors figured, he says, on the table of the great Frankish King Dagobert. When the Abbe Dennis laid the first stone of the church and presbytery he had built by his own hands, on the site of an old chateau and gardens of Dagobert, a hen's nest full of eggs was discovered beneath the ruins of the ancient building. These eggs, more than twelve hundred years old, were about to be thrown away by the laborers, when the Abbe, remembering that wheat has been grown from grain found in Egypt, in mummies, dating back from the time of the Pharaohs, bethought him that possibly there might still be life in these eggs. A savant of the institute, consulted at once in reference to these precious relics of an age wh n there was, as yet, no France to detest "Perfidious Albion" or to be jealous of Prussia and needle guns, advised their being forthwith confided to a hen of approved success in the maternal capacity. This advice having been acted upon, the good pare and his friends had the delight of witnessing twenty-one days afterward, the hatching of a fine brood of enickens, the direct progeny of the denizens of King Dagobert's barn yard. The fowls thus obtained have been carefully kept from any mesalliance with their cogeners of less ancient blood; and the Abbe has now a yard so well replenished with "King Dagobert fowls" that he not only supplies his own larder with poultry of this illustrious breed, but is about to organize, at the suggestion of numerous friends, a sale of "King Dagobert eggs" for the benefit of the poor of his parish.

INVISIBLE POISONS.

The Medicis and the Borgias fortified their systems with powerful antidotes against the subtle poisons with which they used to destroy their enemies, and which they feared might one day be employed against themselves. There are invisible poisons in the atmosphere, against which few of us think of taking any precautions. These banes are in the air. When the atmosphere is surcharged with them, as it sometimes is at this season, epidemic fevers ensue. The summer which has just closed has been a most remarkable one. The amount of rain that has fallen has been enormous, and the exhalations from the soil have been, and are, dense and copious beyond example. These exhalations exercise a pernicious influence on the vital powers, and predispose the system to disease. Fever and ague people are complaining of renewed debility, lassitude and depression. These symptoms are generally fore-runners of an epidemic. Combat them early—before they lapse into something worse—with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, the most effective antidote to malaria that the vegetable kingdom has ever yielded. Its operation is three-fold—vitalizing, depurative and anti-bilious. Free from any ingredient that is in the slightest degree deleterious to health, and containing the juices and extracts of the rarest medicinal herbs, it is immeasurably superior, as a defensive preparation, to any other tonic, herbal or mineral, at present used in medical practice. A course of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS is, humanely speaking, a perfect safeguard against intermittent and remittent fevers.

BLIND EYES RESTORED.

The case to which we alluded some weeks ago, of Christina Fisher, of Beaver county, is now entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on DR. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his genius and skill in restoring her TO ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher had been nearly blind for four months. She was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as hundreds of cases like hers are doomed to never-ending darkness, on the flimsy pretext that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DOCTOR KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him through her brother, Simon P. Fisher, slight hopes were entertained of her ever getting her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery.

We, the undersigned, know of the cure of Miss Fisher, and bear willing testimony to the facts above stated.

Mr. Robt. C. Totten—Pittsburgh, Pa.: Dear Sir: We have had a pair of your rolls in a grooved chill rolls in our use for the last six months, and find them of a very superior quality. The iron finished on them is of a smooth, even surface, and free from scales, and I consider them in all respects of great advantage, making better iron, and at less expense, in consequence of requiring less dressing. Mr. Robt. C. Totten—Dear Sir—The grooved chilled rolls which we procured from you about a year since have proved to be a perfect success. There is a great saving in the wear of our steel Rolls, and give a much better finish to the Steel. We consider them indispensable.

Mr. Robt. C. Totten—Dear Sir: In reply to your enquiry in relation to your new patent grooved Chill Rolls, we have to say that having used a number of them, we find they answer our purpose admirably. We are now using a pair of your Rolls in our Rod Mill, and have built you made for us. These Rolls are used for rolling large rounds. We also use them for such a finish up on our Steel as could not be had with the use of the ordinary grooved Rolls. The Steel we roll is first-class, and ready for use, in fully one-fourth less than is necessary when rolled by other Rolls. We are also using the lathe, whilst the advantage gained with your grooved Chill Rolls is, that the whole surface of the Steel is rolled, thereby producing not over one-half the work

On the 3d inst. John Wilson, a resident of the Ninth Ward, was convicted of unlawfully stabbing officer Cotton, of the Mayor's police, on the night of the 12th of August last. The prisoner having been brought out for sentence, H. C. Mackrell, Esq., his counsel, urged upon the Court the fact that at the time of the occurrence the officer had arrested the defendant without just cause. In cutting the officer, therefore, it was reasonable to infer he was, in a measure at least, acting in self-defense. Judge Sterrett said it appeared that the violence was used by the defendant after he had submitted to the arrest; but under the circumstances, and the prisoner having already been in prison ten weeks, a light sentence would be passed. His Honor said it further appeared from the evidence adduced that the officer addressed a remark to the defendant and a companion, to which no response, perhaps insulting, was made, when the officer made the arrest, first rapping his mace for assistance. It was doubtless the intention of the officer to take the persons arrested to the Mayor's office, for "disorderly conduct," (His Honor supposed,) although it did not appear they had violated any city ordinance in any shape.

Mr. Lucas, member of the bar, interrupted to say that "disorderly conduct," like charity, "covered a multitude of sins,"

Judge Sterrett further remarked that although the defendant might have used insulting language, that was not sufficient to justify the arrest. Officers could not rightfully have punished persons who instill them in the manner indicated. It was the duty, nevertheless, of the defendant to have submitted to the arrest, and afterwards sought his legal remedy. The cutting, therefore, was unlawful. The defendant was sentenced to undergo a further imprisonment of twenty days.

FOR STEALING BRASS.

Emanuel Hackings, formerly in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company as night machinist, at the outer depot, convicted of stealing brass castings from the depot, was sentenced to the Penitentiary for one year.

SENTENCE DEFERRED.

William Mitzenger, convicted of assault and battery, on oath of John Shellaby, was brought up for sentence. The prosecutor, who is blind of one eye, had a difficulty, or words, with the defendant in a saloon in the Third ward, Allegheny city, where he was engaged in a game of cards, and while standing on a street corner, subsequently, defendant struck him in the face with a boulder, saying as he did so that he would blind his other eye. At the request of Jacob Whitesell, Esq., counsel for the defense, sentence was deferred for a few days.

ATTACHMENT FOR THE MAYOR.

C. C. Taylor, Esq., applied for an attachment against Mayor McCarthy for alleged contempt of Court, in refusing or neglecting to make return, as duly ordered, in a disorderly conduct case, in which John Coop was defendant, and Robert Hutchison prosecutor. A certiorari had been taken out, and it seems that the Mayor, having failed to appear and answer to a rule issued against him to produce the papers in the case, an order was made that he should do so forthwith, in response to which he left at the office of Mr. Taylor a transcript of the proceedings before him, made up, counsel believed, to suit the purpose. The transcript referred to was not what was desired, nor was it a full compliance with the order of the Court, nor did the Mayor even certify to the paper produced. Counsel desired to have the warrant issued by the Mayor in the case, also the information. Mr. Taylor said he knew there was an information taken, for he had seen it, but as to there having been a warrant issued, he had some doubt. Judge Stowe suggested that in order to give the Mayor ample time, the counsel should notify him that unless he complied fully with the order of Court application would be made for an attachment against him.

Coop and Hutchison occupied rooms in a building on Grant street, and having got into a quarrel the latter received a "thrashing." Coop was subsequently arrested by an officer, on complaint of Hutchison, but upon being taken to the tombs, the officer representing that he made the arrest without a warrant, and simply at the request of the Mayor, the official attendance declined to receive the prisoner, and directed him to be taken to the Mayor. The officer went with his prisoner to the office of His Honor, but failing to find him, Mr. Coop was allowed his liberty. Later, however, he was again arrested, taken before the Mayor, who gave him an immediate hearing, declining defendant's request for a postponement, and fined him eight or ten dollars for "disorderly conduct." The action of the Mayor has been appealed from, under the belief that it was unlawful, and Mr. Coop confidently expects by the aid of the Court to "get his money back."

Accident on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

In the GAZETTE of Friday was published an account of an accident on the Pennsylvania railroad, near Derry Station, in which we were unable to give the name of the man who was killed. We since learn that the accident occurred at Nineveh Station, and the name of the deceased was Keliar, formerly of Buckstown, Bedford county. He was foreman of a Shook shop at Nineveh Station, and attempted to jump on the freight train for the purpose of going to Johnstown. Just as he fell, the Cincinnati Express came along from the East, at lightning speed, and struck the poor fellow on the back, mangling him in a shocking manner and killing him instantly. Keliar was a single man, of excellent character, and was to have been married in a short time to a young lady of Nineveh Station.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Joseph Levine appeared before Alderman McMasters, Saturday, and made information against Barney Harrington, charging him with assault and battery. Levine is a bea nut vender, keeping a stand at the corner of Sixth and Smithfield streets, and he alleges that Harrington purchased some of his "merchandise," and a quarrel ensued about the amount of change coming to Harrington, when, as the prosecutor alleges, he was knocked down by the defendant. Harrington also made an information before the same magistrate, against Levine, for assault and battery, alleging that Levine struck him several blows with a cane or stick. The case was compromised by each party paying his own costs.

Catharine Rice appeared before Alderman Thomas, and made information charging Catharine Owens with assault and battery on her little boy. The prosecutrix alleges that the defendant struck her child with a board, hurting it severely. Ahearing was had in the case when the defendant gave bail for her appearance at Court. The parties reside on Stevenson street, in the 8th Eighth ward.

LARCENY BY BAILEE.

John Fox made an information before Alderman McMasters, against Joseph Fisher, Saturday, charging him with larceny by bailee. The facts of the case, which, if as stated to us, would indicate Fisher to be guilty of that worst of all sins, ingratitude, are as follows: Fisher had been committed to the county jail for some misdemeanor, and about the time his term expired, Fox was also "sent up." Fisher, it appears, was in a rather destitute condition when discharged from custody, having no coat and the remainder of his clothing in a very dilapidated condition. He appealed to the sympathies of his fellow prisoner, Fox, who very generously loaned him his coat, which was a new one, valued at twenty-five dollars. Fisher appeared to be thankful for the favor, promising to reciprocate at the first opportunity, and also to return the coat at an early day. Fox, it appears, did not get out of the "tombs" for several days after the above transaction, and Fisher failed to call and return the coat as he promised to do. When restored to liberty Fox found himself in the same dilemma in which he found Fisher—turned out of jail without a coat to wear. He at once sought the man he had befriended and requested him to give up the coat, which was refused, hence the prosecution. A warrant was issued.

Barbara J. Woods made information before Alderman Thomas, charging Rose Ann Radick with larceny by bailee. The prosecutrix alleges that the defendant obtained a pair of shoes from her and has refused to return them or pay for them. A hearing was had when the defendant gave bail for Court. The parties reside in the Seventh ward.

SURETY OF THE PEACE.

Thomas Flinn, a resident of Oakland township, appeared before Alderman McMasters yesterday, and made information against Rose Leonard for surety of the peace, alleging that she threatened to do him and family bodily harm. Rose was arrested and after a hearing was held in three hundred dollars bail for her appearance at Court.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

John Berger, arrested Friday evening, on a charge of larceny, on oath of Mr. M. Boles, who alleged that the defendant had stolen a lot of rope, had a hearing before the Mayor on Saturday, which resulted in his being committed to jail to answer the charge at Court. The defendant is a boy about seventeen years of age and resided in Allegheny City.

Professional "Shovers" Arrested.

Two men hailing from Philadelphia, supposed to be professional "shovers" of counterfeit money, who gave their names as John B. Wright and George W. Waters, were arrested yesterday morning about two o'clock, at the Union Depot, by officers Pender and Johnson, and taken to the lock-up, where they still remain. The circumstances leading to their arrest are as follows: Friday night they arrived at Johnstown from Philadelphia, and during Saturday succeeded in "shoving" a number of counterfeit twenties on the First National Bank of Philadelphia. Having done as much business there as was practicable they took the evening train for this city, which arrives here at two o'clock A. M. A short time after they had taken their departure, some one of the parties who had been the recipient of favors, discovered that his twenty was a counterfeit. This led to a further investigation and developed the fact that some four or four hundred dollars of the same kind of money had been shoved upon the unsuspecting merchants and others of the citizens by these Philadelphians. Burgess Kopeland was informed of the fact, and at once telegraphed to the conductor of the train on which they had taken passage to have them arrested, and giving such an accurate description of them as could not fail to lead to their identification. The dispatch, we believe, was received by the conductor at Greensburg, but he very wisely took counsel in the matter, and allowed his "game," who had taken a sleeping car, to enjoy their nap without interruption. On arriving at the depot, having first seen that the doors of the car in which were his men were securely fastened, he notified the officers above named of the circumstances, conducted them to the car, and pointed out the men. They were taken in custody by the officers and searched, but no evidence of their guilt was discovered upon them. Shortly after the search, however, one of the officers found a package containing two hundred and fifty dollars in counterfeit notes on the bank on which the twenties were said to be, lying under the car near where the search had been made.

From the number of arrests and convictions of counterfeiters and "shovers" recently, the business appears to be a risky and unsafe one, and if men wish to keep out of the penitentiary they had better keep out of the business.

Serious Affray.

An affray of a serious character occurred on Liberty street, in front of the Rush House, about two o'clock Saturday morning, which, had it not been for the timely interference of Officer Gumbert, might have resulted fatally to some of the parties engaged. The names of those concerned in the row, so far as we could ascertain, are as follows: William Davis, William Payne, James O'Donnell, Pat Deans, Charles Maratha and William Brown. The difficulty originated between Davis and Payne, the former knocking the latter down, when the friends of both parties entered the engagement, and a free fight ensued, clubs, stones, bricks, etc., being used freely. Officer Gumbert succeeded in arresting Brown, Davis, O'Donnell, Payne and Maratha. They had a hearing before the Mayor Saturday, when Brown and Davis were each fined $25 and costs, and the remainder of the party discharged, as it appeared that they were only acting in self defence. Brown paid his fine and was released, and Davis was sent to the tombs.

ANOTHER "DEAD LETTER."—The ordinance passed recently, by Councils, locating a stand for hacks, carriages, and baggage wagons, carrying baggage and passengers to and from the Union Depot, on the East side of Grant's street, South of Liberty, is a good one if properly enforced, but no steps have yet been taken, we believe to put it in force. Saturday afternoon Liberty street, opposite the Depot, was literally blockaded with vehicles, from the Rush House to the St. James Hotel.

OBITUARY.—Brevet Major G. W. Fetterman, of the United States Army, died last evening, at the residence of his brother, on Third street, of chronic dysentery. The deceased was about forty years of age. He leaves a large circle of friends and acquaintances, who will deeply regret his death.

A "GALLUS" MANIA.—The Post editor's prospects for the Senate early developed in him a fearful mania for "roosters." He was knocked into a cocked hat, however, and consoles himself, in lieu of legislative "roosters," by making his sanctum a cock-pit stocked with saucy barn-yard fowls.

WASHINGTON COUNTY FAIR.—The Washington County Agricultural Society held their annual exhibition on the fair grounds at Washington on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week. The attendance is said to have been unusually large and the exhibition a very fine one.

THOMAS WHITTAKER, arrested on a charge of larceny, on oath of Mary Sproull, will be removed from his present quarters in the lock-up to Washington, Pa., to-day.

"SNIBS" ARNOLD, who is now in the Washington jail charged with the murder of David Sproull, in Washington county, will have a hearing at one o'clock to-morrow.

—The Washington Chronicle says: "Every revolution is stabbed by a child of its own begetting, and we have not escaped the general destiny. What surprises us is, and has been, that men who had the power to remove the betrayer, and hold the Government in hand until the work of emancipation was complete, should have hesitated to adopt so simple and constitutional a remedy."

—According to the Avenir National, the settlement of the affairs of Maximilian has led to unpleasant disputes between the Austrian and Belgian royal family, and even a procès between them is regarded as probable. The point chiefly in litigation is whether the Archduchess Charlotte or the Archduke Francis Charles, uncle of the Prince, should be named general legatee.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

PENNSYLVANIA.

—Dr. S. S. Christy, formerly Mayor of Oil City, met with an accident on Tuesday night, at the summit, Cambria county, which may prove fatal. He was standing on the steps of Riffell's hotel, leaning on his staff, when the staff gave way and he fell backward, striking his head against a stone with such force as to produce concussion of the brain. He was some better at last accounts, but was still very low. He has a host of friends here.

—Cambria county wants a school master in some sections. The Ebensburg Alleghanian gives the following verbatim copy of a posted notice in that neighborhood: "Hoss loost. tAke no tis to hoo so ever may find this Horse Will no Him for Hev iss alyt bay with astar in Hiss face nfe Hind leg iss White from the parter Jont down blind off Hiss left iye let me no and ie will pay CHarges Direct to——, fall en tim ber port Cam bery Co in haste."

—The Johnstown Tribune says: On Sunday evening last Rev. B. L. Agnew, pastor of the Presbyterian congregation of this place, notified his hearers that he had received a ca to preach statedly for the Westminster Presbyterian congregation of Philadelphia, and that he had favorably considered said call. He requested that, in accordance with the action of the Presbytery of Blairsville in the premises, the congregation would meet on Wednesday evening of last week to decide upon his application for dismissal. The congregation accordingly met, and granted Mr. Agnew's request. The unfavorable condition of his own health and that of his family, we understand to be the principal reason for inducing Mr. Agnew to take this important step. It is probable that he will leave with his family for Philadelphia about the close of the present month.

—From the Juniata Sentinel we clip the following: On Saturday evening, as the Cincinnati Express train east passed the Mahanyunk bridge, a passenger was observed divesting himself of hat, watch, etc., and then, placing his hands on the back of two seats, he sprang out of the window feet foremost, taking the sash with him. The train was immediately stopped, and on going back he was found walking towards the persons in search of him. As soon as he saw them he fell upon his knees and commenced praying for mercy. He has a cut on the chin, and is considerably bruised, yet it is a miracle that he was not instantly killed. He had been laboring under an attack of delirium tremens, and no doubt jumped from the train to escape the presence of those dreadful phantoms seen by persons in his situation.

—At a camp meeting at Mount Morris, Greene county, Mr. Joab Coleman was severely injured on Sabbath evening, by his horse running over a steep bank, some thirty feet high. The horse was killed outright, and Mr. Coleman had one arm broken and several ribs crushed in, besides being otherwise severely bruised.

THE Waynesburg Republican tells of a violent convulsion in the earth, which took place in Alleppo township, Greene county, a few weeks ago, with a report equaling in violence that of the heaviest artillery being sufficient to shake a house near by very sensibly. So far as the noise was heard, 2 large stump, with an immense mass of stone and earth attached, was found sitting on top of the grass, in a field of Mr. Long's, near by, and in full view of the public road. About thirty yards below the stump there was a hole some ten feet in diameter, corresponding in shape with the mass which had been displaced. The hole was filled with water to within two feet of the top. The stump had been thrown up the hill with such terrific force, together with a log about fifteen feet long, which was lying across its roots. The stump and hole in the ground are still to be seen by any one passing the road.

THE steam tannery of Reber & Bro., at Milton, Union county, was destroyed by fire last week. Loss $25,000; insurance $7,000.

The Easton Express says: The County Commissioners have purchased a lot two hundred feet square, immediately east of the Court House, for the sum of $1,500, upon which they purpose erecting the new county jail. The Commissioners have resolved to build next year, and they intend making preparations.

—The trains on the Lehigh Valley Railroad are now running regularly between Easton and Scranton, making direct connection with trains to Philadelphia and New York. Passengers can now ride from Scranton to Philadelphia, via the North Pennsylvania Railroad, without change of cars.

—The Bethlehem Times tells the following joke: As the North Pennsylvania passenger train was approaching the Sellersville tunnel, a few days ago, a young couple in one of the cars were noticed to have a great fondness for each other. This suggested fun. Some mischievous chap, as the train was about at the middle of the tunnel, illuminated the car by lighting a match, when the loving couple were discovered embracing and kissing each other in the most ardent manner. Of course there was an immediate cessation of the delicious amusement. The passengers roared with laughter, and the lovers were immensely embarrassed.

—The Honesdale Republican says: James Bonnell, who was arrested for murdering Mosier, in Damascus, and lodged in jail here, but who proved to be innocent of the crime, and afterwards discovered to answer the description of a man wanted in Pike county, for setting fire to a barn belonging to Mr. Kleinhans, has been tried, found guilty and sentenced to Penitentiary for eight years. The men who committed the murder were only sentenced for six years each. A barn in Pike county is worth more than a man's life in Wayne county.

—The Columbia county Republican says: Our old friend Peter M. Traugh, near Berwick, informs us that he has raised 1500 bushels of onions, this year, from two and three quarter acres of ground. A good part of them are already sold at eighty cents a bushel. Quite a profitable crop. Truly, farming is one of the most successful farmers in the county.

—John K. Grotz has sold his Lime Ridge farm, in Columbia county, for $20,000.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, October 12, 1867.

—The financial advices from Washington are encouraging, and Secretary McCulloch's annual report, it is stated, will have no uncertain tones in it. He will be able to show a most satisfactory reduction in the national debt, but what is better, the fact that the whole mass has been reduced to order, and that a resumption of specie payments is an event of the immediate future. He will be able to go before Congress with facts and arguments to prove the necessity of prompt resumption so conclusively that they must prevail with those who at the last session held the option that contraction must be long deferred, and more currency be issued.

—A dangerous counterfeit on the June Seven Thirties was discovered on Thursday, but not until it was put out very extensively. The counterfeit is upon the the thousand dollar note, and is distinguished from the genuine by the note being rather larger than the original, the edge being more sharply defined, and the lathe work being more coarsely executed. The brokers are on their guard, and the community generally should exercise some caution before receiving in this issue.

—The New York Journal of Commerce says: liquidation is still going on in financial circles, and the pressure from this source will give additional force to the arguments of those who are anxious for a little stringency in the money market of the present season. Few dealers are realizing self sustaining profits and there is far more uneasiness among business men than is apparent on the surface. Those who are in the habit of manufacturing sensations may, in such a state of things as this, find two ways open for their own good, and it is well for all who handle political machinery to "draw it mild" in the present crisis. A little goes just as much further stirring to bring up the bottom. The market presents less animation than was expected at this season, although there is a fair amount of business in the various commercial departments. The dry goods trade is comparatively dull; prices of most descriptions of plain and printed cotton goods have declined, and many classes of woolens are held with less firmness. Money continues in active demand.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, October 12, 1867.

CRUDE—The Crude market was again dull and weak to-day, under the influence of the recent rains and the improved prospects for a resumption of navigation, and, while there is, as yet, no actual decline, that is, so far as we can learn, there have been no sales at a reduction, yet there is no disguising the fact that the general tone of the trade at this writing is in favor of lower rates. Should the weather clear up and turn cold before there is rain sufficient to effect the river, the chances are that spot oil will go still higher; while, on the other hand, in case of a heavy rise, prices will go lower. We continue to quote nominally at 14c for spot oil, and 12c for first water; the only sale reported was 5,000 bbls, to be delivered on first water, on private terms—rumored at 11¾. We have no advices from Oil City to-day, but, we presume, the market there, as here, is dull.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil is sympathy with crude, was also dull and weak to-day, and for the same reason—the improved indications for a resumption of navigation. Compared with the early part of the week prices have declined from one-half to one and a half cents per gallon, both for present and future deliveries, and even at the reduction, the market is dull and depressed, and devoid of life or animation. We report a sale of a "line" of 2500 bbls, 500 each, running from November to March, inclusive, at 33½c, and it is reported that there was a sale of 2500 bbls in Philadelphia to-day, for October, seller's option, at 35½c, which is now considered above the market. We now quote at 36½c for spot; 35½c for all October, buyer's option; 35@35½c for November, same option; 34c for December, same option; and 32c for December, to February, inclusive.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil during the week ending to-day, were as follows—all by rail.

—As the oil trade here is considerably interested in the rate of freights between the oil regions and the seaboard. We copy the following from the Titusville Herald, of Tuesday:

It is generally understood that the Empire Line Company and the Atlantic and Great Western and the Erie and Lake Railroad Companies have entered into a combination in order to raise the freights and agreed on a uniform rate to all the principal markets. The following is the rate which went into effect today on the Empire Line: From Oil City to New York in bulk, $2.85; in barrels, $2.10, refined, $2.04. From Oil City to Philadelphia and Baltimore in bulk, $2.50; in barrels, $1.90; refined, $1.87½. PITTSBURGH MARKETS.
